Press release

Schwäbisch Hall, 21.02.2024

Packaging Valley Diversity at FACHPACK 2024: 1,400sqm joint booth with 26 co-exhibitors

For the members of Packaging Valley, it is one of the most important trade fairs in the packaging industry: FACHPACK in Nuremberg! This year, Packaging Valley will be represented with a joint booth of around 1,400 square meters in Hall 3C together with 26 co-exhibitors and will present the diversity of the cluster.

FACHPACK in Nuremberg (24 – 26 September 2024) is just around the corner again and for the members of Packaging Valley it is an indispensable highlight in the packaging industry. With a joint booth in Hall 3C, the presentation area of Packaging Valley extends over around 1,400 square meters and offers space for the presentation of innovative technologies and solutions. At the joint booth, 26 member companies will give visitors a comprehensive insight into the diversity of the packaging process chain for industrial and consumer goods. Visitors will have the opportunity to get to know the wide range of technologies for the pharmaceutical, food and non-food industries that are being developed in Packaging Valley. In addition, 15 other companies from the Packaging Valley will be represented at FACHPACK with their own exhibition space. The common goal: to provide orientation in the current challenges of the industry and to show innovative solutions for the future.

FACHPACK is considered one of the most important trade fairs in the packaging industry and acts as a guide for the packaging industry and its users in Europe. The keynote theme of FACHPACK 2024 "Transition in Packaging" reflects the current changes in the industry. The trade fair focuses on key topics such as sustainability, resource efficiency, digitalization and e-commerce, which influence the packaging industry along the entire value chain.

Packaging Valley and its member companies cordially invite you to meet them at FACHPACK 2024. The joint booth promises exciting insights and inspiring discussions about the latest developments in the packaging industry.

Meet us and our member companies at FACHPACK. We look forward to seeing you!
